In 1668, Dom Pérignon is said to have discovered how to make sparkling wine; today his technique is used the world over. France's most northerly wine region, Champagne is now home to 15,000 growers and 290 'houses.' A blend of grape varieties is usually required: white Chardonnay to add fruit and elegance, and two reds – Pinot Noir and Meunier – to provide body and backbone.

Most Champagnes are non-vintage where a minimum of one and a half years ageing is required. In years where there is an outstanding harvest Champagne houses may 'declare' the vintage (millesimé) using only grapes from that particular year – three years maturation is required for these wines.

CRISTAL VINO THEQUE - LOUIS ROEDERER

Founded in 1776, Louis Roederer is a family-owned, independent Champagne house with a well-deserved reputation for quality. It is managed by Frédéric Rouzaud, the seventh generation to be at the helm.

In 1876, Louis Roederer created the now-famous Cristal at the request of Alexander II, Tsar of Russia. This once intensely sweet wine is now one of the most luscious, deeply flavoured champagnes available, with the '88, '89, '90 and 2000 among the greatest Cristals ever released.

Burgundy is a province in eastern France, that includes the viticultural regions of Chablis and Auxerre in the Yonne departement, the Côte de Nuits and Côte de Beaune in the departement of the Côte D'Or and the Côte Chalonnaise and Mâconnais in the Saone-et-Loire departement.

It's not the majesty of the grapes vinified for these wines that make them unrivaled. The grapes are mostly Chardonnay, and a little of Aligoté and other grapes. Chardonnay when standing alone, undisguised, Chardonnay is a bland grape, relatively punchless, easily manipulated by winemakers. It's productive enough that mediocre bottlings can be made inexpensively.

But it has certain qualities that make it capable of greatness. Because it is essentially subtle, it picks up flavors from the soil and the earth, few other grapes are so influenced by the concept of terroir, the French word for sense of place. The best white Burgundies are spare, concentrated, focused and noble.

Created in 1988 by Henry Frédéric Roch, the DOMAINE PRIEURÉ ROCH Today comprises around twenty hectares spread over the multi-secular terroirs of Gevrey-Chambertin, Vosne-Romanée, Vougeot, Nuits-Saint-Georges, Ladoix and Savigny-les-Beaune. A rarity in Burgundy, the estate owns three of the most prestigious Clos monopoles, namely Clos des Corvées (5 hectares in Nuits-Saint-Georges 1er Cru) Clos des Varoilles (6 hectares in Gevrey-Chambertin 1er Cru) and, exceptionally exceptions, Clos Goillotte (0.55 hectares in Vosne-Romanée) which was the private vineyard of the Prince of Conti.

Led by Yannick Champ and his team according to the spirit instilled by Henry Frédéric Roch since 1988, the estate does not use any synthetic product in the vineyard (biodynamics) or in winemaking. They produce pure and sensual wines, the fruit of extreme work and attention to the vines as well as vinification in whole bunches without the addition of sulphite, have acquired worldwide renown. Each bottle is a rare taste event

A fresh and solid land, both powerful and sensual made of limy marls and compact sand of which Poderi Aldo Conterno and their most noble Barolo are the most subtle, attentive and most of all calm and patient interpreters.

This is because here, in the folds of the Bussia hills, the timing of the countryside governs, slow and master, the right time for grapes as these are.

Aged for over thirty months in oak casks and refined for a further six years, the GRANBUSSIA represents the purest and most virtuous essence of three different historical Bussia cru

THE BOND - ST. EDEN

The project was conceived by Bill Harlan and Bob Levy of Harlan Estate – a winery that quickly became one of California's cult producers, along with the likes of Screaming Eagle. Harlan Estate sources its fruit from its own vineyards, but Harlan and Levy were interested in cultivating fruit from specific terroirs around the Napa Valley.

The result was BOND (initially known as Bond Estates), which began making wine in 1997. The first commercial release came two years later.

BOND has since received its own considerable critical recognition. Multiple wines have been rated 100 points by Robert Parker's Wine Advocate.

The range is made at a dedicated winery in Oakville. The winemaking approach is consistent across the BOND portfolio to ensure that the wines communicate the character of each cru site.
