In 1668, Dom Pérignon is said to have discovered how to make sparkling wine; today his technique is used the world over. France's most northerly wine region, Champagne is now home to 15,000 growers and 290 'houses.' A blend of grape varieties is usually required: white Chardonnay to add fruit and elegance, and two reds – Pinot Noir and Meunier – to provide body and backbone.

Most Champagnes are non-vintage where a minimum of one and a half years ageing is required. In years where there is an outstanding harvest Champagne houses may 'declare' the vintage (millesimé) using only grapes from that particular year – three years maturation is required for these wines.

CRISTAL VINOTHEQUE - LOUIS ROEDERER

Founded in 1776, Louis Roederer is a family-owned, independent Champagne house with a well-deserved reputation for quality. It is managed by Frédéric Rouzaud, the seventh generation to be at the helm.

In 1876, Louis Roederer created the now-famous Cristal at the request of Alexander II, Tsar of Russia. This once intensely sweet wine is now one of the most luscious, deeply flavoured champagnes available, with the '88, '89, '90 and 2000 among the greatest Cristals ever released.
